Analysis

On January 11, 2026, at approximately 8:58 p.m., police officers were dispatched to a residence in the area of Ontario Street and Welland Avenue in St. Catharines, for a reported intimate partner violence incident.

Upon arrival, officers determined there were reasonable grounds to arrest the affected person for assault and failing to comply with probation. The affected person had reportedly fled the residence in a vehicle and was believed to be armed with a knife. Prior to leaving, he made statements that raised concerns for his mental well-being and personal safety.

Police were able to determine the affected person's location, inside a shed on a residential property in Lincoln. Officers approached the affected person who threatened them with a knife and made statements "shoot me". The affected person abandoned the knife and continued aggressively towards the officers displaying assaultive queues. The one subject official delivered a closed hand strike to the affected person's face knocking him to the ground where he was controlled, handcuffed and arrested.

The affected person was taken to a hospital where they were assessed and determined to have suffered a broken orbital bone during the arrest.

The SIU was notified of the incident and invoked their mandate accordingly.

On May 5, 2026, the SIU closed its investigation into this matter. In his decision letter SIU Director Mr. Joseph Martino wrote, "there were no reasonable grounds in the evidence to proceed with criminal charges."

A copy of the SIU report was publicly posted on the SIU's website.
